Dear city council,

I think this is a complete blanket overreach once again by the city. As Realtors we have always considered where the best places to put a sign would be that works for what we are doing for our clients/Paso Robles community members. I believe other business owners are doing the same and are very conscious of what they need to do help their businesses. We need to have the ability to put signs directing people to our listings and or our businesses. I think for the most part we are all very professional and do it right with our directional signage and don't do extra signage when we don't need to. Please consider this being a very important accessory for businesses to thrive.

Sincerely,

Andrea Emery-Drayton
