RE: agenda item L5 Second Reading and Adoption of Setting Parking Rates

I wanted to share my personal experience with the downtown paid parking in Paso Robles. When coming from a doctor appointment in Paso Robles, I really wanted oriental food or something good to eat downtown. After driving around and then finding a parking spot, I remembered the paid parking and how I already was weak and hungry. So I left the good parking spot and drove to a Chinese Restaurant near Albertsons on Niblick so I would not have to deal with how the paid parking works.

That happens quite often when I think I'd like to go shopping or have lunch in Paso. I am recovering from surgery and do not want to deal with the paid parking, so I go to Templeton or Atascadero instead where the parking is free.
